Performance Measures

Open Textbooks Pilot (OTP)

P116T

1. The number of students who enrolled in courses that use open textbooks and/or ancillary materials developed through the grant;
2. The number of students who completed courses that used open textbooks and/or ancillary materials developed through the grant;
3. The failure rate or withdrawal rate in courses that use open textbooks and/or ancillary materials compared with equivalent courses that used commercial textbooks;
4. The number of faculty/instructors that use open textbooks and/or ancillary materials developed through the grant;
5. The number of institutions within the consortium, and the number of institutions outside of the consortium, that adopted the use of open textbooks and/or ancillary materials developed through the grant;
6. The number of courses among consortium members that adopted the use of open textbooks and/or ancillary materials developed through the grant, compared to those that continued to use commercial textbooks;
7. The number of faculty/instructors or institutions that use tools for revising and remixing open educational resources content to facilitate adoption of open textbooks and/or ancillary materials developed through the grant;
8. The average grade of students who completed a course that used open textbooks and/or ancillary materials developed through the grant compared with the equivalent average grade of students that used commercial textbooks;
9. The average cost savings per student; and
10. The total cost savings for students who used open textbooks and/or ancillary materials developed through the grant compared to students in the same course of study who used traditional textbooks.
11. Other

Each FIPSE program has between 1 and 10 categories, or Absolute Priorities, that Performance Measures must fall under. Grantees should strive to ensure that all prescribed categories are represented by the work being performed on the grant.

If you have a performance measure that does not fit neatly into one of the prescribed categories, you may select the "Other" category. The Other category is optional and simply provided for your convenience; you are not required to use it.

Grantees should strive to ensure that all prescribed categories are represented by the work being performed on the grant. However, you will be able to submit your report even if all categories are not addressed.